Acknowledgments

This work is dedicated to the private and public practice members of the Consumer Law bar and the Judicial officers who decide Consumer Law disputes and cases across the United States and its territories, all of whom tirelessly dedicate their careers to helping people find Justice every day in our legal system. Without their support and participation, the research for this publication would not have been possible.

I am grateful to the members of the National Association of Consumer Advocates and the National Association of Consumer Bankruptcy Attorneys and the many friends and supporters of the National Consumer Law Center, and to the Consumer Law bar who participated in the research that formed the foundation of this Survey Report. They are the men and women who make Justice work every day.

A special thanks is extended to Ira Rheingold, Richard Dubois, Willard Ogburn, Jon Sheldon, Charles Delbaum, Robert Hobbs, Edward Boltz, and many, many others for their constant encouragement of this project, advice and assistance since the survey began in 1999. The support, suggestions and comments from countless others over the years have contributed greatly to the result before you.

Finally, no words could adequately express my thanks to my wife, who guided, supported and encouraged me every day for the decades throughout this work. I could not do what I do, and I would accomplish nothing without her.

1. Introduction

This Survey Report publishes the results of the United States Consumer Law Attorney Fee Survey for 2017-2018. This Survey Report continues to be the only national survey of Consumer Law practitioners in the United States and is the only Consumer Law survey whose methodologies have been independently peer reviewed and is supported by the National Association of Legal Fee Analysis, a non-profit professional national association of attorney fee experts in the field of legal fee analysis.

The Survey is based on data provided by private practitioners and also data culled from all court cases reporting attorney fee decisions in the field of Consumer Law in Lexis and Westlaw and unreported state court decisions during 2017 and 2018. These Consumer Law Survey Reports have been used in more than 40 jurisdictions, including state and federal courts, the U.S. Court of Federal Claims, the U.S. Department of Justice, the U.S. Department of Labor, and the American Arbitration Association to determine reasonable attorney fee rates.

Attorneys in every state and the U.S. Territories took part in the national survey and the results this year continue the trend of being the most comprehensive since our continuous research work began in 1999.

The survey participant data is based on a survey employing an online, email, and telephone survey of attorneys representing about 4,500 members of the National Association of Consumer Advocates and the National Association of Consumer Bankruptcy Attorneys and other known attorneys practicing in the field of Consumer Law as identified through Avvo.com, Lawyers.com, and court filings and fee decisions around the country. There were 1,592 participating attorneys in this survey with data reported for 2,078 paralegals, establishing a robust 35.37% participation rate. A recent internet search for similar state bar association surveys located 7 recent surveys with an average participation rate of 11.8%.¹

¹ A March 2019 Google search of the term “Economics of Law Practice Survey,” a common title for many bar association surveys, resulted in survey reports with participation rates that could be compared to state attorney totals as follows: Colorado (6.7%), Florida (of over 100,000 members, 3,284 were polled and 682 responses received; 20.7% of those polled, less than 1% of total membership), Kansas (9.3%), Michigan (30.3%: 20.9% of private practitioners and 9.4% of non-private practitioners), New Mexico (10.8%), Wisconsin (13.5%).

Methods to Update Survey Results from 2017-2018 to Current Date

Because the survey was conducted in 2017 and 2018, the hourly rates and other data reported represent 2017 and 2018 values. The reader may find some minor adjustment necessary or desirable for application outside of 2017 and 2018. Courts² have at times used percentage increases derived from the U.S. Census Consumer Price Index³ to adjust rates to updated levels.

Goals of Survey Report

The primary goals of this research project have been and continue to be to:

- provide timely, relevant and accurate data benchmarks and information to inform and guide practical, management, and planning decisions by Consumer Law attorneys and firms, including private practitioners, non-private practitioners, the judiciary and government workers
- better understand the demographics of Consumer Law attorneys and their practice
- monitor and document general and key trends in the Consumer Law field of the legal profession, based on previous and present survey research and analysis
- understand how attorney compensation (e.g., hourly rate) is impacted by common variable factors (e.g., years in practice, niche area of practice, experience level, geographic location, and more)
- collect thorough and accurate information on the economic realities associated with the career field of Consumer Law to share with the bar and bench
- create a point of reference for future economic surveys of Consumer Law practitioners

What's New

A number of beneficial changes in format and content are introduced with this edition of the Survey Report. This section provides a central point where changes that appear in this new edition of the Survey Report are highlighted, explained and contrasted with the previous edition.

Foremost is the addition of survey data derived from hundreds of attorney fee decisions in and related to the field of Consumer Law which were issued by state and federal courts and administrative agencies in the United States and its Territories during 2017 and 2018. Sources for these fee decisions included Lexis, Westlaw, unreported case decisions, and private attorneys across the United States and its Territories. In each such fee decision, the court-awarded hourly rates were matched with the Court's geographical jurisdiction, each identified participating attorney's years in practice and firm size, their primary field of practice, the relevant Consumer Law niche area involved in the case, their law firm size, and other required survey data. Where the necessary survey data was not present in the court decision itself, internet research was undertaken to gather the missing relevant survey data points. In those few cases where necessary survey data points were still absent, individual attorneys were contacted to obtain the data points.

Thus, this edition of the Survey Report provides data that is based on reported data from participants and also actual fee decisions made by courts and agencies in the United States during 2017 and 2018. Such decision-based data was included in this Survey Report without regard to whether or not the decision forum relied on prior editions of this Survey Reports, e.g., all Consumer Law fee decisions in 2017 and 2018 were included in the resulting survey data upon which this Survey Report is based. The addition of these datapoints to the survey data allows the resulting Survey Report to achieve the highest level of accuracy in its results.

In the interests of transparency, a new table has been included at the beginning of the State and Metropolitan Area Tables, displaying the quantity of billable attorney and paralegal/legal assistant participation data counts for each section.

Another major change was the substantial increase in the quantity of metropolitan areas that are now individually reported in the Survey Report. The Survey Report now provides a data breakdown on 157 major metropolitan areas in the United States, geographically covering 66.5% of the entire U.S. population.

The explanation of survey techniques, previously Section 5 of earlier Survey Reports, is now more centrally located in this Section 1, the Introduction.

The Summary Profile of the Typical U.S. Consumer Law Attorney, section 2, has been expanded to include comparison data fields contrasting current data results with results from the last Survey Report, for easy comparison of broad historical data points.

This Survey Report continues coverage of every state, the District of Columbia and the two most heavily populated U.S. Territories, Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands. With the increased inclusion of a larger quantity of greater metropolitan areas, the Survey Report now includes coverage of one or more greater metropolitan areas in every state. Data for every non-metropolitan area in the United States is still reported.

Since this survey began in 1999, greater localized data reporting has continued to be preferred by the Bench and Bar. To better serve the continued sharpening of this shift in focus, the Survey Report has evolved over time from its original twelve multi-state regions to individualized and localized data reporting for rural and urban areas. This change continues our effort to provide the reader with a quick and easy analysis of relevant data on an ever increasing and higher level of locality. It is expected that the resulting analyses will be of greater use to the reader, the profession, the Bench, and Bar.

Consumer Law is recognized as a specialized field of law by courts⁴ as well as universities, law schools and the profession itself. As the field has continued to mature, niche specialty areas developed within the broader field of Consumer Law and have been recognized as such by the Courts. Subtle differences in practices and hourly rates can be found when these niche areas are examined that can provide a better understanding of these niche practices to practitioners and courts. Such data continues to be reported herein.

Specific factors are recognized to commonly have a larger impact on an hourly rate than other, less common factors. These factors can vary the hourly rate by their application and continue to be called Variables in this Survey Report. Thus what might be termed as Years in Practice, in prior editions of this survey and elsewhere, is now termed more accurately as an Experience Variable. The experience level of an advocate is a primary variable in determining a reasonable hourly rate.

To more clearly identify the meaning of “Firm Size” in the Survey Report tables, the title has been changed to “Average Number of Attorneys in Firm.”

To better understand the “years in practice” variable and its localized impact on a professional’s hourly rate in larger greater metropolitan areas, a selected group of data-rich greater metropolitan areas in this Survey Report are now followed by an Experience Variable table that shows changing hourly rates over a practitioner’s career. These Experience Variable tables take the years in practice of legal practitioners and breaks it down into brackets, generally in five year increments and capped by the elder bracket of 41+ years in practice. The average attorney hourly rate for each bracket is then provided.

Previously the ten states with the largest survey participation provided detailed data that allowed those state Survey Reports to include additional data tables, including a Specialty Variable table, Small Firm Size Variable table, and Large Firm Size Variable table. The substantial increase in survey participation and the addition of datapoints from court fee award data has allowed detailed, in-depth analysis to now be reported on 16 states, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Texas, Washington.

The Specialty Variable table focuses on the percentage of practice time that is consumed by the practitioner on Consumer Law matters in brackets of ten percentage points from 50% to 100%. The average attorney hourly rate for each bracket is then provided.

The Small Firm Size Variable table and the Large Firm Size Variable table each take the Experience Variable tables and separate them by law firm size, as measured by the average number of attorneys in the firm, and then report the average attorney hourly rates for each years in practice bracket therein. This allows further contrast of data between large and small firm members by their levels of experience.

The Table of Authorities has been expanded with additional case citations that provides a convenient alphabetical listing of cases and authorities cited in this Survey

Report, updated to September 10, 2019.

Survey Report Sections Explained

After this introductory section, the results of this Survey Report are reported first from a national viewpoint and then in two major localized data sections. At the beginning of each Section is an explanatory table of the Section's structure and content.

Section 2 of this Survey Report contains the Summary Profile of the Typical U.S. Consumer Law Attorney, a collective approach to the entire survey results which yields a general picture of key aspects of the typical U.S. Consumer Law practitioner in the United States and its territories. It is based on the survey results as a whole and may serve as a benchmark for both larger and local comparisons by the reader.

Section 3 begins the State Summary Tables analyses for each state in the United States, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands and includes a table of the Median Rate for the niche Practice Areas, reporting the 25% Median, the Median, and the 95% Median hourly rate brackets. This section provides the Survey's analytical approach to each state or area's survey results, which yields a more detailed summary picture of key aspects of the typical U.S. Consumer Law practitioner in each survey state or area.

Section 4 contains data for the greater metropolitan area tables for 157 greater metropolitan areas (GMA) in the United States. These GMA selections are based chiefly on the basis of their larger population count. For each GMA, this section contains a similar averages and median summary table as was included in Section 3 and also adds a Median Rate table for the niche Practice Areas and an Experience Variable Table (i.e., years in practice) to each greater metropolitan area analysis. This approach allows for a highly localized data reporting. Although the greater metropolitan area Median Rate for the niche Practice Areas tables only lists the Median point and not the 25% and 95% Median points that are listed in the state Median Rate for Practice Areas tables, there is a simple and statistically reliable way to calculate those greater metropolitan points if the reader desires to do so in a specific situation.

Since the Median Rate for Practice Areas provided in Section 3 give the 25% and 95% Median points and the table in Section 4 does not do so, the greater metropolitan area 25% and 95% points can be calculated based on the percentage difference away from the Median point. For example, in the state Median Rate for Practice Areas table for Alabama, the Credit Rights fields for 25%, Median, and 95% list hourly rates of $263, $350, and $625 respectively. In the Birmingham, Alabama greater metropolitan Mediate Rate for Practice Areas table, the Credit Rights field only lists the Median at an hourly rate of $350. Referring to the greater metropolitan table field for Credit Rights shows the Median hourly rate to be $350. The state table field for the Median is $350. The greater metropolitan table field is 100% of the state table field number. Applying that percentage to the 25% and the 95% Median points will result in a close approximation of the Birmingham 25% and 95% Median points, e.g. $263 and $625 respectively.

Section 5 provides a brief discussion of cases employing the use of prior editions of this Survey Report along with a listing of citations to cases which have used or cited the Survey Report since its inception, both pro and con. Specific hourly rates in fee award decisions are included in recent cases, where available. Also included is a list of all known cases giving negative treatment of prior editions of the Survey Report with an editor's remark as to each that provides a better understanding of the difference between the prior edition of the Survey Report under consideration in that specific case and noting differences in the more recent and current Survey Report. It should be noted that the methodologies of these Survey Reports has evolved during the last twenty years to address any perceived deficiencies noted by the Bench and Bar and commentators.

Section 6 discusses various cases that have dealt with the actual use of survey data in court proceedings such as fee hearings, with citations.

Section 7 provides biographical information about the Survey Report Editor.

Section 8 provides contact information for the reader's recommendations for future survey data gathering or other suggestion.

The Appendices contain supporting material to enable the reader to better understand the survey and this Survey Report, including the actual survey questions and possible answers for each, a peer review statement, and more.

To easily locate any specific case cited in this Survey Report, consult the Table of Authorities in Appendix 4.

Niche Areas in the Field of Consumer Law Defined

Consumer Law is recognized as a specialized area of law dealing with issues arising from transactions involving one or more persons acting as individuals or as a family. As a field of law, however, Consumer Law can be further reduced to finite and separate niche areas, typically rooted in the protection afforded by different types of consumer rights that are most often based on specific state and federal statutes. These include, for example, the United States Bankruptcy Code, the Fair Credit Reporting Act, the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act, the Equal Credit Opportunity Act, the Truth in Lending Act, the Uniform Consumer Sales Practices Act (in the form of its state adaptations that are commonly called Unfair and Deceptive Acts and Practices, i.e., UDAP laws, Landlord-Tenant Statutes, the Mortgage Action and Forebearance Act, Credit Discrimination, the Magnuson Moss Warranty Act, state Lemon and Warranty laws, State and Federal Odometer Tampering laws, laws dealing with telemarketing, “junk” faxes, prepaid entertainment programs, and more. These numerous statutes can be grouped by the type of rights they each seek to preserve and protect for the purpose of this survey, because of the similarities involved in asserting such rights.

While Consumer Law is a field of law, for a closer analysis of the niche areas within Consumer Law, the following categorization has been made for purposes of this Survey Report and the Median Rate for Practice Areas tables:

1. Consumer Bankruptcy
2. Consumer Protection Class Action (based upon one of the other niche areas)
3. Credit Rights (FCRA, FDCPA, ECOA, TILA, Credit Discrimination, Credit Reporting, Debt Defense, etc)
4. Mortgage (Foreclosure Defense, RESPA, HOLA, Housing Rights, Landlord-Tenant, other real estate rights enforcement laws, etc.)
5. Vehicle Litigation (Autofraud, Lemon Law, Warranty Law, Vehicle-related UDAP claims, Repossession Law, etc.)
6. TCPA (the Telephone Consumer Protection Act)
7. Other (Common Law Fraud, unfair and deceptive acts, etc.)

Geographic Areas Defined

Survey participant data and Consumer Law case decisions on attorney fees has been analyzed and compiled for this Survey Report for all 50 states and the geographic areas of the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands and 157 greater metropolitan areas.

This national Survey Report also takes a localized view of the survey data by its inclusion of specific survey questions that differentiate population size and geographic areas of practice, which allows for data analysis of one or more greater metropolitan areas in every state. This enables a more detailed, specific and slightly different analysis of the survey data for the reader's review, application and analysis.

Generally, a greater metropolitan statistical area contains a core urban area of 50,000 or more population and includes the adjacent counties or municipalities that have a high degree of social and economic integration, as measured by commuting to work, with the urban core. However, a greater metropolitan area in this Survey Report is not defined the same as in the U.S. Census. The key difference is that in the Census definition of a metropolitan statistical area (MSA), the MSA may cross state or other governmental borders. In this Survey Report, data responses were confined to state or territorial political boundaries. For example, in this Survey Report the Chicago greater metropolitan area does not include the northwest Indiana area where Gary, Hammond and other Indiana cities are located which are socio-economically connected to Chicago, Illinois.

To provide even more detailed data, this survey obtained from each survey participant and case decision the specific niche area(s) of Consumer Law in which the participant or case attorney practiced. Thus, the differences in practicing in one niche area of Consumer Law can be compared with any of the other niche areas.

The responsive data enables an even more narrow and localized analysis to be generated and which provides median-based hourly rate numbers for these niche areas of Consumer Law within the wider field of Consumer Law itself, with a greater focus on geographic locality.

The Average and the Median: What it Means to You

To assure an adequate understanding, interpretation and application of the data in this Survey Report, a brief explanation of common data terminology in this Survey Report may be useful.

The tables in this Survey Report use some terms whose meaning, while understood by statisticians, may not be clear to all readers. This Survey Report presents the compiled data in measures of central tendency (mean and median) and dispersion or spread (percentiles). These data points can also be combined to more precisely derive results that may be applicable in circumstances requiring more specific calculations because of the characteristics of a given situation where data is sought by the reader.

The mean (sometimes called the arithmetic average) is calculated by adding the values of all responses, then dividing by the number of responses.

For example, five responses are reported, 3, 4, 6, 8 and 12. The average is calculated by adding their values ($3 + 4 + 6 + 8 + 12 = 33$), then dividing by the number of responses (5). Thus, the average is $33 / 5 = 6.6$.

The median has a different meaning. It is the middle value of a series of values, which is initially rank-ordered from low to high. By definition, half the numbers are greater and half are less than the median. Both mean and median values are used throughout this Survey Report to denote the measure of central tendency, e.g., as a pointer for the central area of survey results without regard to the average.

Statisticians variously agree that using the median as a statistic reduces the effect of extreme outlier numbers (extremely high or low values, such as 12 in the above example) while the average does not do so because it takes all numbers into account.

As an example of how using a median affects the above numbers, the same five responses are reported, 3, 4, 6, 8 and 12. The median is the middle number of the order of distribution, 6. Note, however, that the average of this same distribution of numbers is 6.6. Depending on the set of numbers under analysis, the mean (i.e., the average) may be incrementally higher or lower than the actual median of that set of numbers.

The median literally is the value in the middle. It represents the mid way point in a sequence of numbers. It is determined by lining up the values in the set of data (for example, in this fee survey that would be all of the individual fee rate responses logged in the survey) from the smallest to the largest. The one in the dead-center position is the median number.

The median is not the average of the numbers because you don't add anything in the list, but you merely determine the center of the list. Some statisticians say that using the mean (instead of the average) gives less weight to the individual numbers that are on the outer limits of the survey responses and thus it is more likely to direct the survey to the real center of the responses.

The median result of a set of numbers may be higher or lower than the average of that same set of numbers. Because the median number is commonly not the same as the average number, being either slightly above or below it, we are including both the average and the median results for key data points in the survey.

The dispersion of data around the median, which is at the 50th percentile point, is reported in three increments in several places throughout the Survey Report:

- ◆ 25th percentile (what statisticians call the lower quartile); one-fourth of the number values are less and three-fourth of the values are more than this value
- ◆ 75th percentile (the upper quartile); three-fourths of the number values are less and one-fourth are more than this value
- ◆ 95th percentile; ninety-five percent of the number values are less and only five percent are more than this value.

Interpreting the Findings: Primary and Minor Variable Factors

An hourly attorney fee rate may commonly be impacted by a combination of several factors each applied when applicable and potentially varying degrees. The four primary factors are years in practice, firm size, practice location, and degree of practice concentration. These four variables are widely known to have a significant impact on an hourly rate and in this survey are identified as the primary variables. This Survey Report provides data on all these variable factors.

Another often widely variable factor that is sometimes considered in determining a reasonable hourly rate is reputation, although it is highly individualistic. Characteristics that may contribute to the individual attorney's reputation would include trial experience, continuing legal education presentations in or related to an attorney's primary practice field, related articles and book publications, and publicly available professional rating services such as Martindale-Hubbell and Avvo. Individual analysis of these characteristics can be undertaken where and when and to the degree deemed appropriate.

Depending on the specific situation, there are other variable factors that historically are often of less impact than the primary variables, such as advertising, personal client relationships, and other more remote factors. These minor variables may apply in often unique instances but almost always to a lesser variable degree than the primary variables. Most often these minor variables are highly individualistic to the practitioner at hand and can be examined where and when and to the degree deemed appropriate.

Thus, the information presented here on the factors that are primary variables will be indicative of a particular attorney's reasonable hourly rate but there may be times when a further, more detailed analysis of minor variable factors may be useful to further refine and modify the result of the primary variable factors to a specific situation. Such a detailed analysis requires an individualistic inquiry and even then the potential impact of such these additional variables may be limited and doubtful.

A Summary Profile of the Typical U.S. Consumer Law Attorney is presented at the outset of this Survey Report in Section 2, in order to provide a summary profile of the average U.S. Consumer Law attorney and their practice. It may be viewed as the average of all survey responses nationwide. Charts appear here which are employed in the state and greater metropolitan sections, enabling a local versus national comparison of data.

The Experience Variable Tables present an analysis of the impact that the years of experience in practice has on hourly rates. Each greater metropolitan area has its own table of survey results with the levels of experience, e.g., years in practice, being divided into 11 time frames with less than one year and more than 41 years bracketing the outer limits at each end.

One might think that longevity of practice would dictate an increasingly higher hourly rate and these tables report survey results that test that assumption and, in some cases, variations are observed. For instance, since the beginning of this survey work twenty years ago, a bell shaped curve and other seemingly odd variations have historically been observed among senior levels of years in practice. Economic and social trends outside of this survey may further test the assumption of a relationship between increasing years in practice and an increasing hourly rate, but these are not considered in this survey.

The State and Metropolitan Summary Tables in Sections 3 and 4 are presented to give an overview of the practice of Consumer Law lawyers for each listed state, area or greater metropolitan area. Note the use of both average and median results in these sections, with the median used to reduce the effect of extremely high or low values in some data. These tables also show the difference in survey results when comparing the average hourly rates and the median hourly rates, a factor considered by some statisticians to arrive at what they may consider to be more neutral or accurate survey results.

Survey Techniques Explained

Surveys are widely considered to be important tools in any evaluation process. There are fundamentally two types of surveys: open ended questioning and closed ended questioning.

Open ended questions allow the responder to respond in any manner at all with no definite or limited answer. Close ended questions provide a limited number of possible answers from which a response can be chosen by the responder. Because open ended questions allow for an unlimited response, they can lead to a subjective analysis and the results are almost always more difficult to interpret and quantify for analysis.

Close ended questions, however, lend their responses to an easy and objective statistical analysis. This survey employed only close ended questions.

There are five types of close ended questions.

A Likert-scale question allows for responses on a scale and allows a responder to state their feelings about an issue, such as strongly agree to strongly disagree. Multiple choice questions allow the responder to select from a finite number of responses. Ordinal questions ask the responder to rate things in relation to each other, such as selecting the most important to the least important responses about an issue. Categorical questions first place the responder in a category and then poses questions based on those categories, such as preceding questions with the initial inquiry of whether the responder is male or female. Numerical questions are used when the answer must be a real number.

Different types of questions are used in survey work so that different types of result analyses may be conducted, but the most common survey techniques are the numerical and the multiple choice question because of the ease with which conclusions may be derived from the raw data.

In general, this survey used numerical and multiple choice questions. This allows for precise responses that can readily be cataloged and statistically interpreted. Categorical questions also exist within the survey that allowed for more information to be obtained from practitioners of consumer bankruptcy law, while allowing non-consumer bankruptcy practitioners to skip that focused section of the survey.

Survey Design Methodology

In addition to considering the types of questions to be employed in a survey, the very design of the survey itself should be considered. This requires considering the placement, wording, sequencing, and other factors that can influence accurate data gathering.

In designing the United States Consumer Law Attorney Fee Survey, the author considered all procedure, question and design factors enumerated and discussed in three primary sources: Evaluating Survey Questions: An Inventory of Methods prepared by the Subcommittee on Questionnaire Evaluation Methods of the Statistical and Science Policy Office in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (January 2016), and Evaluating Survey Questions by Doctor Chase H. Harrison of Harvard University's Program on Survey Research, and Methods for Testing and Evaluating Survey Questions by Stanley Presser et al, as published in Public Opinion Quarterly Vol. 68, Issue 1 (March 2004).

Data Gathering Methodology

Understanding the data gathering methodology for this survey may assist the reader to understand, interpret, and apply the results published in this Survey Report.

This Survey Report is based on the results from two primary sources of data: the survey that was fielded to advocates operating in the field of Consumer Law during 2017 and 2018 and a continual survey of all available court and administrative decisions on attorney fees in consumer civil and administrative litigation during 2017 and 2018. It is expected that this blend of data practitioner reported rates and court actual rate decisions will achieve a high level of accuracy.

In each case, the answers to a select number of key data questions was obtained. In addition, specific consumer bankruptcy practice questions were added to provide a more detailed analysis of that niche area, because of unique aspects and issues in Bankruptcy Law. The analysis of that data appears in a separate Survey Report.

The fielded survey was administered via email, ordinary mail, facsimile and telephonic data gathering and invitations to an internet-based online questionnaire. The survey was closed when data compilation began in early 2019.

In compiling this Survey Report, a valuable contribution was made by members of the National Association of Consumer Advocates and the National Association of Consumer Bankruptcy Attorneys, and Consumer Law attorneys independently determined to exist across the United States and its territories, who were invited to participate during 2017 and 2018.

The entire active membership of the National Association of Consumer Advocates and the National Association of Consumer Bankruptcy Attorneys, along with other known Consumer Law practitioners from around the United States and its territories were asked to participate in the survey.

Invitations to participate were also randomly sent to Consumer Law attorneys discovered through internet search engine results conducted on a national level, including specific lawyer and professional listing web sites such as Avvo.com, Lawyers.com and LinkedIn.com, as well as randomly selected physical telephone book specialty listings. Invitations to participate were also randomly sent to attorneys identified through court filings in various jurisdictions and bar association directories.

As noted above, this survey included a systematic, comprehensive survey of court and administrative agency cases involving disputed attorney fee issues in consumer civil and administrative agency litigation. The resulting fee decisions which are included in the survey database came from every state, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and the U.S. Virgin Islands.

To accomplish this case survey, case alerts were created and established in Lexis and Westlaw so that the Survey Editor would receive alerts to every consumer dispute decision involving attorney fees. With each such alert, the case decision was read, the fee-prevailing attorneys identified and researched. In some cases the attorneys were invited to participate in the survey or directly asked survey questions, but in many cases the research results revealed the survey's required responses for each such attorney and were entered individually into the survey database. As a result, this Survey Report presents the results of both attorney participants and actual decisions made by courts and administrative agencies that occurred during 2017 and 2018.

As with prior surveys, an on-line survey service was utilized to gather and tabulate the results with safeguards in place to limit data input to one participant per survey. Additional direct email and telephone survey input was also utilized. As the data was analyzed, all substantial outlier data points were each investigated for authenticity, and disregarded where authenticity was not established.

Our similar studies have been undertaken continually since 1999. The objective of these studies has been to determine and report upon the demographics of Consumer Law practitioners, including attorney hourly billing rate, firm size, years in practice, concentration of practice, areas of primary and secondary practice, paralegal billing rates and other data of use to the profession.

The collected information has been condensed into this national reference to provide useful data and benchmarks to inform the public, bar, and bench, to assist attorneys who handle consumer disputes as they manage their practice, and provide useful aid to judicial officers as they seek to determine applicable reasonable hourly rates in the cases and disputes before them.

The data is reported in a variety of focus tables below, allowing the reader to consider the data from several viewpoints of selected factors or criteria. Nevertheless there may be situations where a practitioner desires a data analysis and report specific to their practice or situation. If a more detailed analysis of data for any geographic or practice-specific situation is necessary, it can be performed upon request directed to the editor of this work.

Data Analysis Methodology Explained

The data analysis relies on descriptive statistics, including averages, medians, and percentiles. The average, also known as the mean, is calculated by adding all of the respondents' numerical answers for a particular item and dividing by the total number of respondents. The median, also known as the midpoint, is the point at which half of the responses are above and half are below that number.

The percentiles, e.g., 25th, 75th, and 95th, represent the point in the range of responses at which 25%, 75%, 95% of the respective responses occur for a specific question. For example, the 95th percentile hourly rate amount is the hourly rate amount at which 95% of the reported hourly rate amounts were below and 5% of the hourly rate amounts were above the number quoted.

Items may not sum up to 100% due to rounding in some cases. A data result is indicated as a dash mark (e.g., " - ") in this Survey Report if no data or if insufficient data was reported.

Data is presented for all of the United States and the geopolitical areas of the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands. Some survey data quantities allowed for greater and closer analysis than other geographic areas because not all reported at high levels of data responses. In almost all table fields, survey participation yielded sufficient data for reliable analysis without any necessary use of inferential analysis. In the State Summary Tables, the minimum state participation level was 10 survey data points or participants for analyses to be performed. In the Metropolitan Summary Tables, the minimum greater metropolitan participation level was also 10 survey data points or participants for analyses to be performed. In a Median Rate for Practice Areas table, if one field had no resulting data then the remaining six other practice area fields in that table would be considered and the median result entered in the field that had insufficient participation.

This was a robust survey, e.g., there are more than 4,153 fields of data calculation in this Survey Report but only six data fields lacked sufficient data input when the survey was closed, which represents 0.0014447387 of all data presented. The results for these 6 data fields were marked with a dash, indicating deficient data level to make a reliable computation. In any other instance, the result would be imputed using a variation of the scientifically accepted standard Maximum Likelihood Estimation (MLE) method statistical approach, which estimates the parameters of a statistical model given observations by finding the parameter values that maximize the likelihood of making the observations given the parameters. This approach assumes a uniform prior distribution of the parameters, which was verified to exist by examination of the presented data in this survey. The common variation of MLE employed here used multiple but related fields as sources of data for imputation, invoking multiple fields of related known data to arrive at imputed data for the 11 missing fields. Data fields used for imputation purposes were limited to geographically contiguous data fields because of the established multi-state regional data relationships observed over our 20 years of previous survey data analyses. Simply put, data movement has always been more relational within a geographical area than when contrasted between geographical areas.

In performing calculations of state data for any field in any table, several rules applied for the imputation of missing or insufficient data.

First, if the current survey state data was insufficient then using the prior survey result the editor looked first for a field with data in the prior survey that was contiguous to the data deficient field in the current survey. Next, the editor determined the percentage change from one data field to the next data field in the prior survey and then applied that percentage change to the current survey to calculate the percentage change that would occur from the same known contiguous field to the data deficient field in the current survey. Finally, if there was none then the editor would use the average of all contiguous states' data in the deficient field to determine the entry for the insufficient data field.

In the greater metropolitan area Median Rate for Practice Areas table, if any data field was insufficient then the state data for that field is used. In performing calculations for the greater metropolitan Experience Variable Table, if greater metropolitan data was insufficient then the current survey uses the state data result for that field where data is insufficient. In performing the greater metropolitan area calculations for any field, if greater metropolitan area data is insufficient then the current survey uses the state data result for that field.

Peer Review of Methodologies and Survey Analyses

The National Association of Legal Fee Analysis (NALFA) has reviewed this edition of the United States Consumer Law Attorney Fee Survey Report prior to publication and has announced its support of the methodology used in the data collection and analyses performed. See Appendix 3.

NALFA is a 501(c)(6) non-profit professional association for the legal fee analysis field, providing services on attorney fee and legal billing matters. Courts and clients turn to NALFA for expertise when attorney fees and expenses are at issue in large complex cases. NALFA members include fully qualified attorney fee experts, special fee masters, bankruptcy fee examiners, fee dispute mediators and legal bill auditors and NALFA members follow Best Practices in legal fee analysis. For more information, visit www.thenalfa.org.

Error Rate

Before this publication, a hand selected review was conducted of selected data received during this survey and compared with the data reported in the previous survey. The results indicate an error rate of less than one percentage point at the 95% confidence level in the present Survey Report, a number substantially lower than the published error rate of similar types of surveys.

Section 508 Compliance

The United States Consumer Law Attorney Fee Survey is the only survey of its type that is Section 508 Certified. This means that the survey program on which this survey runs meets all current U.S. Federal Section 508 certification guidelines.

Section 508 is a Federal law that outlines the requirements to make online information and services accessible to users with disabilities. All Federal agencies are required to use 508 certified software and technologies when available.

The Voluntary Product Accessibility Template (VPAT) was used in the design of the survey. VPAT's purpose is to assist Federal contracting officials and others in making preliminary assessments regarding the availability of commercial "Electronic and Information Technology" products and services with features that support accessibility. The VPAT was developed by the Information Technology Industry Council (ITI) in partnership with the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA).

Use of the VPAT means that this survey is built on programming that includes a text element for every non-text element of the survey web page, web pages are designed so that all information displayed with color is also available without color, all parts of the survey are readable without having to open another window, and other techniques to enable disabled persons to fully participate in every aspect of the Fee Survey.

The editor deems it important that the survey reach the broadest range of potential respondents possible in order to provide the reader with the most accurate results. By including survey feedback from the disabled demographic, the survey ensures a more representative population is able to participate so that all demographics may be included in the survey results.

2. Summary Profile of the Typical U.S. Consumer Law Attorney

National Summary Profile Data

This section graphically illustrates and contrasts key data derived from the survey when viewed only from a national approach. Emphasis here is on the average Consumer Law attorney in the United States without regard for any specific survey factor or geographic location. The geo-centric data results appear in the next section.

While 46.92% of survey participants primarily practice in the field of Consumer Law, 18.53% primarily practice Consumer Bankruptcy Law. A wide variety of other primary practice areas existed, with the majority being General Practice at 14.7%.

Below is a list of practice areas. Please select the practice area that represent the largest percentage of your practice time.

The average Consumer Law attorney continues to supplement their work in this field, primarily with Bankruptcy work.

Nevertheless, when Bankruptcy Law is taken out of the analysis, it is clear that slightly more than three-fourths of all Consumer Law attorneys supplement their Consumer Law work with varying degrees of legal work in other areas of practice.

The percentage of actual practice time expended solely on non-Bankruptcy Law Consumer Law matters by the average practitioner continues to fall significantly, from 37.48% of all respondents reporting their practice to consist of 90-100% Consumer Law issues in the last Survey Report to just 24.43% in this Survey Report, a figure still far below that reported six years ago when 82.7% was the level reporting their practice to fall in the 90-100% range for Consumer Law issues.

In the field of Consumer Law there are a number of primary niche areas that have been quantified with survey data. Those who have practiced Consumer Law for a number of years have noticed the periodic shifting growth of these niche areas.

The breakdown by niche area shows that since the last Survey Report all niche areas quantitatively remained about the same.

While certain economies of scale may be achievable in a larger practice with five or more attorneys, Consumer Law is a field that historically has been dominated by small firm practitioners of four or fewer attorneys. This long-term trend continues.

Solo practitioners decreased, as it has for the last six years, but still dominate the field of Consumer Law. 38.69% of all survey participants reported being solo practitioners, down from 40.65% in the last Survey Report and 51.32% in the Survey Report before that. When two and three and four member firms are added, small firms who primarily practice Consumer Law make up 74.62% of all Consumer Law firms, down slightly from 76.22% in the last Survey Report and 79.89% in the Survey Report before that. The quantity of small law firms is very slowly decreasing in the field of Consumer Law.

In such a circumstance, law office economics are often more important to the practitioner than they may be to large law firms who may count on a larger client base for support. Consumer Law has always meant dealing with a different kind of clientele than typical large firm practices, and often involve a one-time attorney-client relationship necessitated by a single legal problem.

The experience level of the average Consumer Law attorney has increased very slightly, from 18.47 years to 18.78 years in practice, essentially holding steady since last the Survey Report. In this survey 14.26% of all participants have been practicing 5 or fewer years while in the last survey it was 14.61% of all participants. That would indicate a steady pace of younger attorneys entering practice in the Consumer Law field.

The greatest increase of inexperienced attorneys (5 years or less in practice) again occurred in Ohio, which again substantially outpaced California with Florida a distant third again.

Ohio again held the lead in the largest number of senior attorneys (40 or more years in practice) of any state, while California again took second place. However Florida slipped to fifth place while, Maine took over third place. In this survey 7.54% of all participants have been practicing 40 or more years, in the last survey it was 6.97% of all participants.

Together these figures indicate an increase in inexperienced (probably younger) attorneys entering the field of Consumer Law while there is a concurrent increase in senior (probably older) attorneys leaving practice, continuing the trend first seen in the last Survey Report.

Disregarding all other factors, including geographical location, the average hourly rate for the typical Consumer Law attorney in the United States is $345, the same amount as the last Survey Report. The median attorney hourly rate is $325 nationally which is down slightly from the last Survey Report of $350, which itself was a decrease in the median of $365 in the preceding Survey Report.

The median 25% Attorney hourly rate (the point at which 25% of all survey participants reported an hourly rate lower than this number) is $231, down from $250 in the last Survey Report, which was itself down from $275 in the Survey Report before that. The median 75% Attorney hourly rate is $419, a decrease from the last Survey Report which was $438 at the 75% median point. The median 95% Attorney hourly rate is $600, an increase from the last survey, which was $588.

UNITED STATES CONSUMER LAW SURVEY REPORT 2017-2018

It might be expected that small firms would be more likely to take advantage of the profit and cost-effectiveness of paralegal support. Instead, while only 18.56% of large firms do not employ a paralegal, 46.89% of small firms do not employ a paralegal. Overall, 39.7% of Consumer Law attorneys choose to work with no paralegal support, a slight increase from 38.73% in the last Survey Report. The average Consumer Law attorney employs one paralegal. The number is 1.31, to be precise.

How many full or part time paralegal or law clerk or legal assistants do you employ?

43.91% of all Consumer Law attorneys either have no paralegal or do not bill for the paralegal's time, nearly identical with the last Survey Report. The survey respondents who employed a paralegal but did not bill for paralegal time are 7.5% of all survey participants.

For those attorneys who bill for paralegal time, the national average paralegal hourly billable rate is $123 and the national median is $114.

In small Consumer Law firms (4 or fewer attorneys) who bill paralegal time, the median paralegal hourly billable rate is $111. In large Consumer Law firms (5 or more attorneys) who bill paralegal time, the median paralegal hourly billable rate is $118.

If you have a paralegal and bill for their time, what is your average paralegal or law clerk or legal assistant standard billable hourly rate?

The average attorney raised their hourly rate 24.54 months ago. 32.86% of all Consumer Law attorneys raised their hourly rates during the last year. In the last 2 years 54.09% of all Consumer Law attorneys raised their hourly rates. In spite of that, 14.7% of Consumer Law attorneys have not raised their hourly rate for 5 or more years.

Of all senior attorneys (practicing 40 or more years) in the national survey, 46.67% have not raised their hourly rate during the last five years. That fact continues to be apparent from almost any Experience Variable Table in this Survey Report and is historically observable in at least the last five Survey Reports.

How long ago did you change your billable hourly rate?

In the last survey there was observed a significant shift away from metropolitan practice to suburban practice location for Consumer Law attorneys but that appears to have tapered off during the last survey period. This Survey Report shows 41.21% of respondents practice in a metropolitan area, down from the last survey (43.89%), which was down very significantly from the preceding Survey Report (61.4%).

At the same time there is also evidence of a significant shift away from non-metropolitan practice to suburban practice locations, while not as dramatic a shift as from metropolitan practices. This Survey Report shows 7.29% of respondents practice in a non-metropolitan area, down significantly from the last survey report (8.54%).

This Survey Report shows 51.51% of respondents regularly practice in both metropolitan and non-metropolitan areas, a repeat increase from the last survey report (47.57%) which was itself an increase from the Survey Report which preceded that. The practice of Consumer Law appears to have changed from primarily a greater metropolitan practice to a primarily suburban practice.

Conclusions

From a historical perspective, several observations can be made when the survey data is viewed over the last decade.

The United States continues to be a mobile society and the trend toward suburban practice locations by Consumer Law attorneys likewise is continuing, albeit at a slower pace than in the last four years. While city population numbers ebb and wane, rural population numbers are largely on a downward spiral. More than a third of all rural counties in the United States have and are experiencing a continuing and longstanding “protracted and significant” population loss, according to a February 2019 study.⁵ Meanwhile, the suburban sprawl of America’s big cities has been continuing for over a decade. The result is a continuing and growing concentration of Consumer Law attorneys in the beltway of American cities, with both big city firms and rural firms contributing to the move.

No matter the location however, small law firms of four or fewer attorneys consistently dominate the field of Consumer Law.

The historically higher hourly rates of large Consumer Law firms have now leveled with the hourly rates of small firms in most instances. The overall median hourly rate of both size firms is level at $325. However, the overall average hourly rate finds large firms at $351 just $8 higher than the small firm average of $343.

The number of paralegals employed by the average Consumer Law firm consistently is one and significant numbers of solo Consumer Law attorneys continue to operate with no paralegal support, regardless of the profit or cost-effectiveness of the support a paralegal more often than not can provide to a firm. This may continue to be the result of younger attorneys’ lack of experience with working alongside a paralegal.

The average number of years in practice for Consumer Law attorneys has slightly moved up and down over the last decade, i.e., in 2009 it was 17.8 years and now it is 18.78 years, just very slight up from the last Survey Report of 18.47 years. This continues to indicate that Consumer Law remains of interest to those who practice in this area of law as they age in their career.

Senior attorneys, who have been in practice the longest, continue the trend of holding their hourly rates steady for the longest time. However, for the first time it is found that younger attorneys who are aging in the practice are carrying with them a faster tendency to increase their hourly rates more often.

Consumer Law and Bankruptcy Law continue to be two areas of law where practitioners frequently concentrate on one while supplementing their work with the other.

The average Consumer Law attorney reported their practice to consist of 55.3% Consumer Law work and while Bankruptcy Law remains the largest secondary area of a Consumer Lawyer's practice, there is a much larger supplementation from the field of General Practice than ever before.

Metropolitan areas listed in this section appear alphabetically by state and not merely by the name of the city since the name may appear in more than one state. Thus, metropolitan areas in Alabama lead the list and metropolitan areas in Wisconsin are at the end of the list.

Following each Metropolitan Area Summaries Table is the Median Rates for Practice Areas table, as explained in the chart above. After that there appears the Experience Variable Table which provides attorney hourly rates by years in practice for that Metropolitan Area. Combined, these tables are intended to provide the reader with a quick and easy snapshot of the data as viewed in the narrow metropolitan approach to the data. The Experience Variable Table also may provide a view of the average hourly rates for an attorney as measured simply by years in practice, but all three metropolitan tables should also be considered in making such a determination.

Of course, the years in practice of an attorney is often deemed related to the experience level of an attorney and is also one of the traditional ways of determining the reasonableness of a particular attorney's hourly rate.

The years in practice alone may not be a sufficient basis, by itself, to consider a particular hourly rate to be reasonable in a particular case. Other factors also relate to the determination of a reasonable hourly rate in a particular case.

In this section of the Survey Report, the only data included is from attorneys who indicated they practiced in the metropolitan area. Non-metropolitan area data was excluded. However, where the survey participant indicated they practiced in both metropolitan and non-metropolitan areas at the same hourly rate, their data was included in the metropolitan reporting below.

A non-metropolitan data report by years in practice can be made available upon request. However, case law indicates that the hourly rate for the jurisdiction at hand often applies to an attorney's hourly rate when practicing in that jurisdiction, rather than the hourly rate for their office location.

5. Cases Employing Use of Prior Editions of this Survey Report

Since 1999, when the data in this Survey Report first began to be compiled, the Survey Report has undergone various revisions in both substance and data analysis. Each revision resulted in further refinement of both the data as gathered and the final Survey Report as published. As various Courts considered previously published Survey Reports in years past, refinements in data gathering, analysis, and reporting were made periodically to both achieve improvements and address judicial commentary and criticism.

The continued refinement resulted in a major revision in data gathering, analysis, and reporting that occurred with the publishing of the United States Consumer Law Attorney Fee Survey for 2013-2014. That edition of the Survey Report added detailed reporting on specific geocentric data from 29 states and the District of Columbia and 46 greater metropolitan areas.

This new 2017-2018 edition of the Survey Report takes the data gathering and analyses processes even further by broadening the coverage to 157 high-population greater metropolitan areas in the United States.

While Courts frequently look to an attorney's normal hourly rate in making fee determinations, Courts may also consider market rates in the attorney's community, either in the absence of a stated hourly rate for the fee applicant or in addition to it.

Reasonable hourly rates are to be determined on the basis of market rates for services rendered. An "attorney's actual billing rate for comparable work is 'presumptively appropriate' to use as the market rate." People Who Care v. Rockford Bd. of Educ. Sch. Dist. No. 205, 90 F.3d 1307, 1310 (7th Cir., 1996). If the attorney has no actual billing rate, "the court should look to the next best evidence – the rate charged by lawyers in the community of 'reasonably comparable skill, experience and reputation.'" Id. (quoting Blum v. Stenson, 465 U.S. 886, 892, 895 n. 11 (1984)); see also Spegon v. The Catholic Bishop of Chi., 175 F.3d 544, 556 (7th Cir., 1999).

Sierra Club v. Jackson, 2013 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 137217, *5, 2013 WL 5409036 (W.D. Wis., Sept. 25, 2013)

Nevertheless,

"the attorney's actual billing rate for comparable work is presumptively appropriate to use as the market rate." 175 F.3d at 555 (quoting People Who Care v. Rockford Bd. Of Educ. School Dist. No. 205, 90 F.3d 1307, 1310 (7th Cir. 1996)). [*10] Only if an attorney is unable to provide evidence of her actual billing rates should a district court look to other evidence, including "rates similar experienced attorneys in the community charge paying clients for similar work." 175 F.3d at 555. Therefore, SIU is correct in asserting that looking to the southern Illinois legal community's rate would have been appropriate, but only if the district court provided an adequate reason to use a rate other than the presumed market rate, i.e., the appellants' market rate.

However, just because the proffered rate is higher than the local rate does not mean that a district court may freely adjust that rate downward. When a [744] local attorney has market rates that are higher than the local average, "[a] judge who departs from this presumptive rate must have some reason other than the ability to identify a different average rate in the community." Gusman, 986 F.2d at 1151. Similarly, if an out-of-town attorney has a higher hourly rate than local practitioners, district courts should defer to the out-of-town attorney's rate when calculating the lodestar amount, though if "local attorneys could do as well, and there is no other [*11] reason to have them performed by the former, then the judge, in his discretion, might allow only an hourly rate which local attorneys would have charged for the same service."

Mathur v. Bd. of Trs. of S. Ill. Univ., 317 F.3d 738, 743-744, 2003 U.S. App. LEXIS 1055, *9-11, 90 Fair Empl. Prac. Cas. (BNA) 1537, 84 Empl. Prac. Dec. (CCH) P41,400 (7th Cir. Ill., Jan. 24, 2003)

In looking at the market rates in the applicant's community, Courts frequently consider and use survey data in their decision-making involving fee disputes, finding it an economical and impartial means of determining contested fee issues.

When two metropolitan areas are near each other, their hourly rates may be found to be comparable. See, Arana v. Monterey Fin. Servs., 2016 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 46111, *6, 2016 WL 1324269 (S.D. Cal., Apr. 5, 2016) ("Of all the hourly rate evidence submitted by the parties, the most relevant is the Consumer Fee Survey's data for first year Los Angeles, California consumer law attorneys. Of all the cities represented in the Consumer Fee Survey, Los Angeles is the one that's geographically closest to San Diego. The Court's independent research suggests that Los Angeles and San Diego rates are similar.....").

Some of the cases using the U.S. Consumer Law Attorney Fee Survey Report

when deciding attorney fee disputes in Consumer Law cases, include the following.

In re Sears, 2016 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 124235, 2016 WL 4765679 (N.D. E.D., Ill., Sep. 13, 2016) (a class action case considering the Laffey Matrix, the National Law Journal Survey and the 2013-2014 U.S. Consumer Law Attorney Fee Survey and using the median rate schedules for Chicago area survey data contained in the 2013-2014 Report in conjunction with both the Matrix and the NLJ survey).

Reid v. Unilever United States, Inc., 2015 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 75383, *50, 2015 WL 3653318 (N.D. Ill., June 10, 2015) (a class action case finding the Laffey Matrix rates to be supported by the Chicago area survey data contained in the 2010-2011 Report; “However, because the Matrix rate recommended here is supported by the Chicago-specific rates contained in the Report, the Court concludes that it is reasonable.”).

Tennessee

Lee v. Robinson, Reagan & Young, PLLC, 2015 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 69096, *22, 2015 WL 3442097 (M.D. Tenn., May 28, 2015) (2010-2011 Survey Report and Laffey Matrix when "submitted without guidance or specific argument by the plaintiff, are insufficient to justify higher hourly rates") (Editor's Note: the rule from this case seems to be that it is not enough to merely submit the Survey Report; some explanation should be made on how it applies and where in the survey there can be found support for the hourly rate requested by the movant).

Edson v. Massa, 2014 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 91440 (E.D., Tenn., April 14, 2014) (noting absence in Survey Report of quantity of survey respondents, lack of actual court fee award input) (Editor's Note: current Survey Report edition includes statements of participant quantity disclosure, actual court fee award data input, and the survey methodology and data analyses peer review and approval by the National Association of Legal Fee Analysis, which began in 2017).

Texas

Ratliff v. Mesilla Valley Transp., Inc., 2019 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 141533, 2019 WL 3936991 (W.D., Texas, El Paso Div., August 20, 2019) (applicant must show prevailing rates in the relevant community and neither the applicant's "home" state rates nor the state-wide rates of the relevant community are the prevailing market rates in El Paso) (Editor's Note: current Survey Report edition includes El Paso among 137 greater metropolitan areas now covered by the survey).

Vermont

Centrella v. Ritz-Craft Corp. of Pa., Inc., 2018 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 22308, 2018 WL 840041 (D.C. Vermont, Feb. 12, 2018) (Survey Report not properly submitted, questioning accuracy of state metropolitan hourly rate) (Editor's Note: upon review, data entry error by participant noted and Vermont section of Survey Report revised with updated Vermont data and reported in new Survey Report edition dated Mar. 13, 2018).

Federal Court of Claims

Gonzalez v. Sec'y of HHS, 2015 U.S. Claims LEXIS 1833, 2015 WL 10435023 (Fed. Cl., Nov. 10, 2015) (Survey Report not used in National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program case, citing Mooney v. Sec'y of Health & Human Servs) (Editor's Note: the rule from these two cases is that some explanation must be made on how the area of Consumer Law is similar to the area of law involved in a movant's case at hand.).

Mooney v. Sec'y of Health & Human Servs, 2014 U.S. Claims LEXIS 1526, 2014 WL 7715158 (Fed. Cl., Dec. 29, 2014) (National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program case; applicant "did not explain why 'consumer law' constitutes an apt comparison for fees purposes to Vaccine Act litigation." "Telling me why such comparisons are apt would be far more helpful than simply asserting that they are.") (Editor's Note: the rule from this case is that some explanation must be made on how the area of Consumer Law is similar to the area of law involved in a movant's case at hand.).

US Dept of Labor, DOL Benefit Review Board, Administrative Law Judge Judge

Ralph Abell v. Island Creek Coal Co., et al, 2018 WL 3007436 (May 21, 2018, DOL Ben Rev. Bd., Chief Administrative Appeals Judge, Gilligan and Rolfe) (Survey Report not helpful in absence of explanation of "how this is relevant in the area of black lung claims.") (Editor's Note: movant is responsible for providing Court with adequate explanation on how the area of Consumer Law is similar to the area of law involved in a movant's case at hand).

David R. Maddox v. Lodestar Energy, Inc., et al, 2018 WL 3007437 (May 16, 2018, DOL Ben Rev. Bd., Chief Administrative Appeals Judge, Gilligan and Rolfe) (aff'd 762 Fed. Appx. 269) (Survey Report not helpful in absence of explanation of "how this is relevant in the area of black lung claims.") (Editor's Note: movant is responsible for providing Court with adequate explanation on how the area of Consumer Law is similar to the area of law involved in a movant's case at hand).

Terry Grimm v. Vortex Marine Construction, et al, 2016 WL 7826580 (Dec. 28, 2016), (DOL Ben.Rev.Bd., Administrative Law Judge Wm. Dorsey, finding Los Angeles and San Francisco 2013-2014 Survey Report tables not relevant to San Diego market) (Editor's Note: current Survey Report provides tables for San Diego and 157 major metropolitan areas).

6. Cases on Use of Survey Data

Additional considerations in using fee surveys may be relevant to a court's consideration in a particular case, including the following concepts drawn from the illustrative cases below.

In determining whether a requested hourly rate is appropriate, a court may look not only to past awards within the district, but the other submissions offered in support of the award such as surveys and affidavits. See, Waldo v. Consumers Energy Co., 726 F.3d 802, 2013 U.S. App. LEXIS 16555, at *37, 2013 WL 4038747 at *12 (6th Cir. Aug. 9, 2013); also see, Sykes v. Anderson, 419 Fed.Appx. 615, 618 (6th Cir. 2011) ("[t]he appropriate rate . . . is not necessarily the exact value sought by a particular firm, but is rather the market rate in the venue sufficient to encourage competent representation.").

While different attorney fee surveys may exist for the Court's consideration, the question may be which "fee survey better served the purpose of assessing the skills, experience and reputation of counsel" in a particular case. Strohl Systems Group, Inc. v. Fallon, 2007 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 90830, 2007 WL 4323008 (E.D. Pa., Dec. 11, 2007), aff'd 372 Fed.Appx. 230 (Mar. 30, 2010).

Moreover, a fee survey may be approved as probative evidence of the reasonableness of an hourly rate. Taylor v. USF-Red Star Express, Inc., 2005 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 3599, 2005 WL 555371 (E.D.Pa., March 8, 2005), aff'd 212 Fed. Appx. 101 (2006).

However, the results of an attorney fee survey may be merely a starting point, a piece of evidence that still should be shown to apply in a particular case. See, Ray v. Secretary of Dept. Of Health and Human Services, 2006 WL 1006587 (Fed.Cl., March 30, 2006).

The cost of performing an individual fee survey and analysis may be recoverable.

It is a matter of first impression that a fee applicant would hire another attorney to conduct a survey on her behalf. We cannot forget that Luessenhop has the burden of proving that her Fee Application is based upon prevailing market rates and that she has the right to present evidence to support the rate she believes to be prevailing. Here, where we are required to weigh the presumptive prevailing market rate district wide, further pondering the geographical distance and economic disparities between the Plattsburgh and Albany communities and Schneider's relatively limited access to those attorneys who practice civil rights litigation in Albany, we acknowledge that Luessenhop was left with little option but to hire Mishler, an Albany attorney, to conduct a more comprehensive survey on her behalf. Luessenhop seeks $787.50 for Mishler's endeavors, which appears to be modest. Considering the amount of time this Court spent to conduct a similar survey, we do not find this amount to be unreasonable and will award it.

Luessenhop v. Clinton County, N.Y. 558 F.Supp.2d 247, 272 (N.D.N.Y., 2008).

Importantly, a fee survey is most useful when it surveys the general area of law at hand in an applicant's motion. Thus, the data from one type of survey may not be applicable to a different area of law without some explanation by the applicant of why the two areas of law are comparable. Nevertheless, more recent cases find guidance and value even if the survey is not of the specific area of law at hand before the Court.

Mooney v. Sec'y of Health & Human Servs., 2014 U.S. Claims LEXIS 1526, 2014 WL 7715158, *3 n.9, *5 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Dec. 29, 2014) (Referring to the Survey Report in a fee motion brought under the National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program but noting the absence of the proponent's explanation why Consumer Law is comparable to Vaccine Act litigation).

Gonzalez v. Secy. of Health & Human Services, 2015 WL 10435023, *9 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Nov. 10, 2015) (Referring to the Survey Report but not stating a reliance upon it in a fee motion brought under the National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program).

However, cases outside of Consumer Law have used the Survey Report, e.g., Twerdok v Secretary of Health and Human Services, 2016 WL 7048036 (U.S. Court of Federal Claims, Office of Special Masters, Aug. 4, 2016) (Vaccine Act litigation); and John A. Breda V. Kindred Braintree Hospital, LLC, 11 OCAHO 1225, 2014 OCAHO LEXIS 18, 2014 WL 4390663 (Aug. 26, 2014) (Employment Discrimination).

Also, survey evidence of the forum geographic area may not be applicable if the attorney's work is performed outside of the forum area.

Gonzalez v. Secy. of Health & Human Services, 2015 WL 10435023, *9 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Nov. 10, 2015) ("... the reasonable hourly rate should generally be based on the forum rate. Avera v. Sec'y of Health & Human Servs., 515 F.3d 1343, 1349 (Fed. Cir. 2008); see also Davis Cnty. Solid Waste Mgmt. & Energy Recovery Special Serv. Dist. v. U.S. E.P.A., 169 F.3d 755 (D.D.C. Feb. 26, 1999). However, an exception to the forum rule (often referred to as the Davis County exception) is applied in cases where the majority of the attorney's work is performed outside of the forum, and where there is a "very significant difference" in compensation between the forum rate and the local rate. Under such circumstances, when the forum rate is higher, the reasonable hourly rate for the attorney's fees award should be calculated utilizing the lower local rate. See Avera, 515 F.3d at 1349.").

7. About the Editor

Ronald L. Burdge is an attorney and the founder of Burdge Law Office Co L.A. in Dayton, Ohio. Mr. Burdge is in private practice in Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana and elsewhere by pro hac admission, and is a nationally known Consumer Law attorney. For over a decade, Mr. Burdge has testified as an expert witness on Consumer Law and Attorney Fee issues in numerous state and federal courts. He is a member of the Total Practice Management Association and numerous professional associations.

He has authored numerous articles and lectured widely on Attorney Fee issues and Consumer Law and Consumer Trial Practice, and is a member of the American Society of Legal Writers and the Legal Writing Institute. Mr. Burdge has also lectured widely at national and state Consumer Protection Law seminars before attorneys, judges, and both public and business groups, and has testified before the Ohio Legislature and its committees on Consumer Law issues.

He has served as Board Examiner for the National Board of Trial Advocacy and has extensive Consumer Law trial and appellate experience in individual and class action cases involving lenders, retail sales practices, defective products, and warranty litigation. Since 2004, he remains the only Consumer Law attorney in Ohio who has been named to Ohio Super Lawyer status by Law & Politics Magazine and Thomson Reuters, and whose practice is entirely devoted to Consumer Law work for consumers. Thomson Reuters is the world's leading source of intelligent information for businesses and professionals. In 2004, he was named Trial Lawyer of the Year by the National Association of Consumer Advocates and in 2010 he was elected to a six year term on the Board of the National Association of Consumer Advocates.

8. Recommendations for Future Survey Data

As always, we welcome your suggestions for improvements to the survey and this Survey Report as we continue to gather useful information in the future.

Please email your suggestions to Ron@BurdgeLaw.com or you may mail them to Ronald L. Burdge, Esq., 8250 Washington Village Drive, Dayton, Ohio 45458.

Shortly after this report was published, the next survey data gathering time frame was opened for participation for the next edition of the United States Consumer Law Attorney Fee Survey Report. If you are an attorney who practices in the field of Consumer Law to any degree, your participation in the next survey would benefit the bar, practitioners and the Courts and would be greatly appreciated. You can do so by going to the website AttorneyFeeStudy.com and clicking on the “Click Here to Take the Survey Now” link.

Appendix 2. Geographic Area Definitions Used in Prior Survey Reports

In prior versions of the Unites States Consumer Law Attorney Fee Survey Reports the data was compiled in twelve geographic regions, including several states identified as their own region. This approach was based on three factors: the long-established Altman-Weil⁶ regional tables, the quantity of Consumer Law attorneys that were readily identified as practicing in each state, and the geographic proximity of any one state to a nearby overall region.

For readers who wish to attempt to make comparisons of data in the prior reports with the data provided in this 2017-2018 Survey Report, the following table lists the regional state content by state name.

The twelve regions for this survey are:

Atlantic:	DC, DE, NC, NJ, PA, VA, WV
California
Florida
Mid West:	IA, IL, IN, KS, MI, MN, MO, ND, NE, SD, WI
New York
North East:	CT, MA, MD, ME, NH, RI, VT
Ohio
Pacific:	AK, HI, OR, WA
South:	AL, AR, GA, KY, LA, MS, OK, SC, TN
Texas
US Territories:	Puerto Rico, Guam, American Samoa, U.S. Virgin Islands
West:	AZ, CO, ID, MT, NM, NV, UT, WY

⁶ Altman Weil, Inc. provides management consulting services exclusively to legal organizations. Appendix 3. Statement of Peer Review by The National Association of Legal Fee Analysis

The following page contains the NALFA statement of its peer review opinions of the United States Consumer Law Attorney Fee Survey Report. NALFA's Executive Director's review of this survey's methodology and data analyses began in 2017.

National Association of Legal Fee Analysis
Specializing in Attorney Fees & Legal Billing

The National Association of Legal Fee Analysis (NALFA) is a 501(c)(6) non-profit professional association for the legal fee analysis field. Our members provide a range of services on attorney fees and legal billing matters. Courts and clients turn to us for expertise when attorney fees and expenses are at issue in large, complex cases. NALFA members are fully qualified attorney fee experts, special fee masters, bankruptcy fee examiners, fee dispute mediators and legal bill auditors.

We have reviewed the follow data and methodology prior to publication. We at NALFA support this hourly rate survey and the methodology contained within. This survey was conducted with the utmost professionalism, with statistical integrity and reliability, and with detailed hourly rate data and survey information. Indeed, this survey is the most comprehensive hourly rate survey for consumer lawyers in the U.S.

United States Consumer Law Attorney Fee Survey for 2017-2018

Attorneys in every state and the U.S. Territories took part in this national survey of Consumer Law attorneys and their law practice economics. Actual court case decisions are included in the database too. The results of this exhaustive and peer reviewed survey continues the trend of being the most comprehensive since this continuous research work began in 1999.

This Survey Report publishes the results of the United States Consumer Law Attorney Fee Survey for 2017-2018. This Survey Report continues to be the only national survey of Consumer Law practitioners in the United States. Since the first Survey Report was published in 2000 the Survey Report has been used in more than 46 jurisdictions, including state and federal courts, the U.S. Court of Federal Claims, the U.S. Department of Justice, the U.S. Department of Labor, and the American Arbitration Association to determine reasonable attorney fee rates across the United States.

The Survey Report provides data analyses for the entire United States, Washington D.C., Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands, and 157 greater metropolitan areas. From Cape Coral, Florida to Eugene, Oregon, from San Diego, California to Hartford, Connecticut, and points in between, this survey provides hourly rates for attorneys and paralegals, average years in practice, and additional practice information, with a Table of Authorities updated to September 10, 2019.

The data published here will help the bench, the bar, and attorneys everywhere to understand the economics of practicing law in the Consumer Law field nationally.

In deciding a contested attorney fee motion in a fee-shifting case, Senior United States District Judge James C. Fox ruled that the U.S. Consumer Law Attorney Fee Survey Report was more persuasive than the National Law Journal's fee survey and the U.S. Attorney's Laffey Matrix in Consumer Law cases. LaFountain, Jr v. Paul Benton Motors of North Carolina, LLC, 2010 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 121631, 2010 WL 4457057 (E.D. NC, Nov. 5, 2010).
